Miss Minnie Carroll of Sacramento, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Irwin of this city. Mrs. Irwin and Miss Ivers are sisters. Dr. F. L. Miner, well known here as a prominent physician, and his wife, arrived by the Alameda on Saturday. It is stated that Dr. Miner will take charge of Dr. Brodie's practice during his absence. His Majesty's Charge d'Affaires in London, Mr. A. Hoffmung, wife and Miss Hoffmung, will visit Honolulu the latter part of June, and after a short sojourn here will proceed on to Sydney about July 9th.

A Chinaman named Kong King, while rid-ing from Waihu to Wailuku, collided with a cane cart, throwing the Chinaman to the ground, the wheels of the cart passing over his body and crushing him fatally. He sur-vived only a short time. Sheriff T. W. Everett held an inquest on the remains, the jury returning a verdict acquitting the driver of the cart of all blame.

The Blue Ribbon League held its regular Saturday night meeting, which drew forth a crowded house. There were readings, inter-spersed with popular music, and a ten min-utes' address by Rev. W. B. Olesson. "The Quaker Courtship," by Mrs. Cruzan and Mr. W. G. Armstrong, was a feature of the evening and brought down the house. The meeting terminated with an ice cream festival, which was an unlooked for pleasure to many, and was thoroughly appreciated.

Last Tuesday morning, C. Peterson, who was riding foriously at Honokaa, Hawaii, collided with a Chinaman, also on horseback throwing both horses which fell on the latter. Peterson was picked up insensible and never rallied. The Chinaman was seriously njured. The occurrence took place near the prison. Peterson was promptly attended to without avail. The deceased was in the employ of W. H. Rickard. An in inquest was held and a verdict returned in accordane with the facts.

Capt. D. McGregor-

On Sunday morning it was announced that Captain Daniel McGregor had expired at 2 o'clock from the effects of an attack of vphotd fever, at his residence. School street. The deceased had been a resident of Honolulu for the last twelve years, and was well thought of by his associates. His last comission was as Captain of the schooner Manuokawai, plying in the Koolau trade, this island. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, his remains being interred in Kawaiahao Cemetery, the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh officiating. The deceased leaves a wife to mourn ber loss.

At Home

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Schmidt, who recently returned from an extended tour abroad, in-cluding a visit to the "Fatherland," gave their first "At Home" on Monday, April 11th, which was numerously responded to by their many friends. The Princess Lilinoka-lani, who departed with the royal party the following day, was present to give the host and hostess a formal welcome home and also to take a formal leave of them. Nearly all the prominent residents were present to ex-tend the hand of welcome to Mr. and Mrs. 8 shmidt. It was a pleasant gathering.

The Queen's Departure.

On Tuesday last a large concourse of wharf to witness the departure of the Queen and suite, the heir apparent, Lieutenant-General Dominis, and others connected with the party-a large portion of whom were natives. At half-past II the royal party made its appearance, and the band struck up "Ha-waii Ponos." The first to reach the gang-way was H. R. H. Princess Lilinokalani, profusely decorated with lab, and went on board amid loud cheers from all sides. The plank was then cleared by the Marshal, and the Queen, leaning on the arm of the King, passed up amid alohas and cheers, which were graciously acknowledged. General Dominis had a heavy job shaking hands with his numerous friends, who wished to

The steamer was densely thronged with passengers, the most of whom were generusly decorated with less by their friends. At 12 o'clock the Australia's whistle was sounded and immediately after the huge steamer swung into the stream with the Hawallan standard at the fore, and started on her ocean voyage with the largest passenger list which has probably ever left this port at one time, besides a valuable freight. The tug Eleu, with His Majesty and suite and a number of ladies and gentlemen and the band on board, escorted the Anstralia outside as far as Waikiki. The steamer J. A. Commins, decorated with flags, with Hon. J. A. Commins and a number of invited guests on board, also accompanied the Australia outside. On leaving the Australia the Eleu and ns saluted her by blowing their whisties and dipping their colors, which was re-sponded to by the Queen and surte waving their handkerchiefs and the Australia dipping ber flug, and then at full speed proceeding on her course to San Francisco, which port she EDUTOR GARFITE:-We are having some beautiful weather here just now. There has been no rain to speak of for the last month, something quite unusual, and unexpected for this place and time of year. It is highly appreciated by every one excepting the planters, even they I prestone, do not gleatly object to it for a short time, as it gives them an excellent opportunity to do the boing, particularly as one man ean do as much work now as two or three can in wet weather.

The roads here are now in fine condition, not that any work has been done on them. (excepting wast has been done on the road in the gulebes by the planters.) About all that that has been done here has been done by the sun wind, and these forces have worked with such good effect that the mad is changed into dust, even the mud-holes are now empty.

It would be an excellent opportunity opportunity to fill these holes with somethi more solid and substantial than mud and loose dirt. I hear the road supervisor has actually got some men at work on the road on the other side of us, and is doing son a good work, so there is a possibility of some-thing being done here in time, and it is about time, as some of the guithes between here and Onials are almost impassable, and in a most dangerous condition The relicoid constructed last year, between Lastpalmeton and Karwilahilahi, is now working sanstantorily and successfully. It has enabled the planters to take all the freight across the guidnes quite entity and safely. This railroad demonstrates the possibility of constructing the much talked of Hilo and Hamaku v railroad, if there is only enough pride, as well as a monument of progressive

The managers of the mills and plantations here have been pushing the work forward with their customary thoroughness and dispatch. The old mill has ground all of Hind's cane, and started on the cane belonging L S. Co. The new mill has ground about half of A. L. A Co.'s cane. Both mills are shut down now on account of the dry weather, but I presume will start up again sthortly.

We hear grand accounts from Hamakua mill and plantation, the cane is yielding four Miss Aileen Ivers of San Francisco, and

Mr. Severance has been out here for the purpose of establishing a school at Kaiwila-hilahi where quite a number of crildren are seen. Mrs. Lydgate has riturned from the Coast and is looking in much better health. Mrs. Barnard has returned from her brief visit to Honolulu, where she has had a most enjoyable time. The ladies now have an opportunity of seeing the Honolulu styles. Alrs. and Miss Kruger have arrived here,

The Japs.

After a successful tour on the windward islands, the Japanese acrobats opened on Thursday in this city, in their tent on Fort street, in rear of the shooting gallery. The performances were first-class, but the attendance was only fair. The Japs will probably visit Kauai shortly. The troupe is under the management of W. H. Aldrich.

Anglican Church Association.

A meeting of the Anglican Church Association was held in the old Cathedral building on Thursday evening last, the Rev. George Wallace presiding. It had been intended to devote the evening to a discussion of the paper read by the Rev. H. Gowen at the last monthly meeting, but in his unavoidable absence, an interesting lecture delivered at Elmira, N. Y., by the Rev. Thomas H. Beecher on "What a Congregationalist Can Say of the Protestant Episcopal Church," was read by the President. After a vote of thanks to the President, the meeting dis-

Auction Sales

Yesterday, Messrs. E, P. Adams & Co. held a large sale of tailor's goods, recently selected by Mr. L. B. Kerr, in person, in England. The assortment was a choice one, and the bidding spirited. A large stock was dis-posed of at prices which were deemed highly satisfactory to the importer. The sale will be continued this morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Lewis J. Levey also held a sale of similar goods, which was considered successful in all respects-aggregating about $4,000. This sale will also be continued this m at Mr. Levey's salesroom, commencing at 10 A feature at both sales was a free lunch to the judicious buyers.

A Suggestion-

Entroy Gazarra-In your remarks on "the future of the Hamakua railroad," a project which every lover of enterprise and progress will be delighted to see accomplished, you say, "the time is not far distant when a fourhorse coach will carry passengers with ease and comfort to the volcano of Kilanea." But why a four-horse coach? Will not the contour of the country and the nature of the ground-partly old lava beds-permit of, say, a single roll track, saddled with a dummy car, if a two-rail track is too expensive, being built and maintained just as cheaply as the coach road, with its coach and outfit? Is Mr. Wilder, with all his plack and foresight, going to by himself out on an expensa couch road?

I am not an engineer, but Ud like to give this suggestive query to Mr. Wilder to think about awhile before he starts in for any ATE ATE.

Mesers. Castle & Cooke are having a fire wall erected on their store on King street, which, in case of a conflagration, will prove of great benefit, besides giving the building an improved appearance. Mr. Lucas has the job in hand.

The Waisnas Plantation.

Mention has been made in the GARETTE of the output of sugars by several mill owners on the group, and now Mr. Abrens, manager Waishae Plantation, sends the following statement of work done by an 8-ton mill on this plantation for the month of March, which will be noted as the best so far, the size of the mill being taken into consideration. The following is Mr. Ahrens showing: 8-ton mill, for month of March, 216 hours granding-highest days work 9 hours, and lowest 4 hours-average 8 hours per day. Total No. of clarifiers, of 500 Imperial

It may be added there was no night work uplishing the above results. Mr. Ahrens is to be congratulated on the above very favorable showing, and it is hoped he will continue to make as good exits in the succeeding months with his small mill. This result shows what energy and goth may accomplish with limited means. The Gazzers hopes to hear from other plan-

tatas of like good results. The Entertainment Last Night

Last evening an antertainment was given at the Opera House in aid of the funds of British Benevolent Society, which was a thorough success, financially as well as otherwise. The entertainment throughout was well conceived, and put upon the stage in artistic style.

The tableaux were of a high order, and reflect much credit on the management and of the ladies who participated in them, and who did not for a moment hesitate to agpear in public for the benefit of so worthy an object as the British Benevolent Society, whose funds stand sadly in need of an addition, and right worthily did the Honolulu public respond to the call.

At an early hour the Opers House pre-

Bented a sea of faces which would have given life and action to an old professional, and how much more encouraging most it have been to the smateurs, whose appearance on the stage is rare, and some for the first time. To say that all acquisted themselves with credit, not only to the profession but to the public as well, is to state the simple truth

The programs for the evening consisted of two parts—part first comprised five Tableaux, which were rendered in artistic style. The first of these with which the audience was favored was "The School of the Vestals," and was received with repturous applause, ending with an endore-the authence cupital, ploth, energy and enterprise to back ing on a regetition. The same may be said of the four following numbers, which shared another jury defines until too back, money wisely, that has been wasted on an like agreeable fate at the number of the four following numbers, which shared a like agreeable fate at the number of the four following numbers, which shared a like agreeable fate at the number of the four following numbers, which shared a like agreeable fate at the number of the four following numbers, which shared a like agreeable fate at the number of the spectators. To say that the posturing of the ladies was excellent is putting it mild—they appeared like marble statues on the stage. not a perceptible motion could be detected in body or muscle. The remaining Tableaux were: "King Lear and Cordelia," "The Magic Mirror," "The Gypsies' Encampment" and "The Sculptor's Studio." In this short notice it is impossible to go into details where all did so well in their several parts.

Tableaux No. 1 was managed by Mrs. W. G. Irwin, who posed as the Priestess feeding the sacred fire. No. 2 was the production of Mrs. J. H. Wodehouse, No. 3 was managed by Mrs. E. W. Jordan, No. 4 was originated and managed by Mrs. T. R. Walker, No. 5 and the last was rich and humorous, as well as instructive. The whole formed the finest entertainment of the kind ever witnessed by Honolulu audience, and this was amply testified to by those present.

The second part of the entertainment was Bayle Barnard's celebrated farce, entitled "On His Last Legs," and is humorous throughout. "O'Callaghan," the principal character, was successfully managed by Mr. Godfrey Brown, whose acting of the genteel but seedy Irishman brought down the house. Mr. F. P. Hastings, as "Charles," was handled with ability. Mr. H. von Holt made a capital old man, and as "Rivers" did himself and amateurs credit. His make-up for the character was faultless. Mr. A. I. Atkinson as "Dr. Banks" was all that weld by decired.

Mr. E. F. Bishop as "John," was a success.
Mrs. E. F. Bishop as "John," was a success.
Miss King as "Mrs. Montague," acquitted herself in a manner which would have done credit to a professional. Mrs. Strong took the part of "Julia," and showed her fine abilities to advantage. Mrs. Strong has, apparently, all the elements in her for an ac-complished actress—care, grace and ability n the stage. The farce was well mounted and placed on the stage in a creditable manner to all concerned. Altogether, Honolulu has no reason to feel ashamed of her amateur talent, and whenever an opportunity is offered, the public respond in a manner which would indi cate that future exhibitions would meet with a like favorable reception. With Mr. God-frey Brown and Mrs. Strong in the principal characters, a house is also always assured.

The Royal box was occupied by His Majesty, Princess Poemaikelani, Captain Sir William Wiseman, Bart., and his Excellency A. Rosa.

At the close the curtain fell on a sea of happy faces, who retired to their homes conscious of having contributed to a worthy ob-ject, and feeling that they had received the worth of their money. A handsome sum, after paying necessary expenses, will be placed to the credit of the British Benevolent Society.

Cricket Match.

A cricket match was played at the Recreation Grounds on Saturday, between a team from H. B. M.'s Caroline and a local team. It was soon evident that the "sea dogs" had the bulge on the shore boys, and won the game, A goodly number of spectators were present to witness the contest, among whom was His Majesty. The following is the score:

CAROLINES. ist innings...... b0 | 2d innings..... HONOLULUS.

Mr. C. C. Webb acted as scorer. The rain which commenced falling had a tendency to dampen the ardor of the players and compelled the spectators to seek shelter.

The Latest from the Volcano-

Through the politeness of Wilder's Steam ship Company the Gazerre is permitted to give the following items from the volcano. Mr. Maby writes under date of Volcano House, April 10, 1887;

"The small lake, previously noticed, has chilled over, and another small one has broken out about 500 feet to the westward. siderable fire has been seen from the house during the past week, and the whole surface seems to be changing. Parts of the surrounding bluff of Halemannau have fallen in and the appearance changed."

The Planters' Monthly for April.

This useful and instructive periodical, de voted almost exclusively to the production of Hawaii's great staple—sugar—is to hand promptly, and proves to be a good number-fully up to the mark, and cannot fail to be thoroughly appreciated by the planter or guesar mill a wner. Besides the torials, there is a paper treating of Young's Automatic Cleaner, which is now engaging the attention of all progressive sugar plant-ers of the group, and its merits are being successfully tested at Waiakea, Hawaii. An article on the Hawaiian Agricultural Society's coming show is timely, and urges exhibitors to the front, with the object in view of making this show what it should be a success. The advantages of fish culture are pointed out to those who possess the facili-ties for following this industry. Professor Van Styke contributes No. 2 of "The Chemistry of Plants and Some of Its Applications," which will bear a careful perusal. "Analysis of Soils, Kilaues, Kauai," is furnished by R. A. Macte, Esq., and goes into details, giving data which cannot fail to prove beneficial to planters in other sections of the group. J. M. Lydgate discourses the "Cengroup. J. M. Lydgate discourses the "Central Mill Manufacture and Planting," and gives his views with the probable results to be attained from that system. The first part of an article on "Agricultural Chemistry," by Professor J. B. Harrison, of Barbados appears in this number. An article on "The Culture and Manufacture of Sugar in British Guiana," furnished by B. A. Maefie, will be read with interest. The other selected articles will well repay an attentive perusal Taken as a whole, the April number of the Planters' Monthly ought to meet with a hearty welcome, and the editor is to be con-gratulated on grouping together so much that will interest the planter in so small a Space.
